Itineraries

1. Day 1: Ride from Pokhara to Kande and Push biking to Australian Camp

Your day begins with a warm up ride to Karki Tagara (North-West part of Lakeside) for about 12 Km on a flat tarmac. and dirt road. As you reach near Karki Tagara, get ready to tackle and conquer the intense climb to Naundanda from where you will continue on Baglung-Pokhara Highway for about 5 Km to Kande. As soon as you reach Kande, get yourself some refreshments to keep you encouraged to tackle the most difficult part of the day to Australian Camp. Accept the challenge of pushing and carrying the bike to the final destination of the day. It may take 1 to 1 and half hour of pushing and carrying. You will stay the night at a local tea house at Australian Camp.

Distance: 25 Km

Riding Time: 4-5 Hours

Pushing Time: 1-1:30 Hour

2. Day 2: Ride from Australian Camp to Pokhara via Dhampus and Astham

Your hard work has paid off! Today, you will be going mostly downhill. Your day begins with a technical downhill to Dhampus where you will encounter stair cases with sharp switch-backs and slippery sections. As you reach to Dhampus, take in a deep breathe of relief for having taken all those challenges. After Dhampus, the trail is comparatively easier on a fast flowy wider track followed by very less tricky sections. The mountain biking trail from Dhampus to Hemja Milan Chow via Astham offers beautiful view of the Annapurna and the Fishtail mountains along with an incredible sight of terraced paddy fields and Mardi River valley. As you intercept the main road of Hemja, you will follow the main road to ride back to Lakeside. while heading back, don't forget to take some time to visit the Tibetan Refugee Camp that falls on the way.

Distance: 37 Km

Time: 4-5 Hours
